THE PRESIDENT'S Message

Our November meeting was another great success. We had close to 40 chapter members and Canton students in attendance to listen to Doug Read, ASHRAE Director of Government Affairs. Doug explained to our group the focus and work of the Government Affairs Office and how we, as a Chapter and individuals, can help that mission by contacting and getting involved with our local politicians. Once again, I would like to commend Rae Butler and Bill Walter for their hard work in securing another fine lecturer.

November's meeting was Canton Scholarship Night, when we were privileged to present three Chapter Scholarships and one Society Scholarship to several second year SUNY Canton students. Recipients included Benjamin LaRose, who was awarded one of the Society's Associate of Engineering Technology Scholarship in the amount of $3,000 and Randy Brossoit and Brandon Baxter, who each were presented with a $500 Chapter scholarships, and Andrew LaFlair, who was presented with the $750 Harry King Award. The executive committee and I would like to congratulate each winner and commend the Central New York chapter for their fundraising efforts throughout the year that make these scholarships to deserving students possible.

Finally, and I know it's hard to believe, but the Holiday season is upon us and with that brings our annual ASHRAE Christmas party. This year's party will be held at Saratoga Steaks in Dewitt on December 10th. Paul Britton provides additional details in the following pages. The party is always enjoyable, and we are hoping for a large turn out this year. So, when you're planning your busy holiday, mark your calendar for December 10th. I will see you there.

Help Wanted

The students of SUNY Canton's Air Conditioning Engineering Technology program are participating in the

ASHRAE Student Design project. I have agreed to let them do this as part of the ACHP 264 AC System Design course. This was Art Hurlbut's course for many years and this will be my first year teaching it. I am asking for assistance from any engineer and/or firm to mentor the students and help them develop an exceptional design. This is a chance for the students to apply their coursework to a real design project and to benefit from the advice and counsel of practicing professionals in the field. I have been teaching Air Conditioning, and I now teaching Domestic and Commercial Heating as well. I have a good working knowledge thanks to Art, however the students could really benefit from the field experience that can only come from practicing professionals like you. Charles Stead led this program most recently, but he left this past spring to take a job in the Albany area. Management of the Air Conditioning Eng. Tech. program has been left to me. Our students would like to do well enough to have some bragging rights with our administration. I also see this as a great tool for ABET assessment. If anyone is interested please call me at 315-386-7219 or email me at newtownm@canton.edu to discuss the project and what level of participation you can lend.

What a great opportunity to meet and work with some bright students about to embark on their own HVAC career. This could be a great recruiting opportunity as well as a mentoring opportunity. For more information about the ASHRAE 2009 Student Design Project Competition, see (<http://www.ashrae.org/students/page/1420>), and for a description of the design project, see (<http://www.ashrae.org/students/page/1971>).
